- Hwanho Space Walk - The Space Walk trail is 333 meters long, with a total of 717 steps. This steel-made sky walkway features elegant curves and beautiful night lighting, symbolizing the iron and light city of Pohang. From here, you can overlook the panoramic view of Pohang's brilliant night view, the sunrise of Yeongildae Bay, and the sunset.
- Donggung Palace and Wolji Pond - To celebrate the unification of the Three Kingdoms, King Munmu of Silla built the artificial "Wolji Pond." Nobles enjoyed boat rides on moonlit nights during the Silla Dynasty. After Silla fell, the pond became "Yan'ya Lake." Nearby is the "Donggung," or "Seaside Palace Site," restored from the Silla era, offering beautiful night scenery.
- Bitnuri Jeongwon LED Light Garden - On more than 3,500 square meters of land, approximately 26,000 LED roses and sunflowers fill the beautiful courtyard. Along the walking path in the courtyard, there is also a sound system playing beautiful music, including classical songs, K-pop, and traditional music. - Haedong Yonggungsa Temple - Jutting out on Busan's eastern coast, Haedong Yonggungsa Temple, established in 1376, stands as South Korea's lone seaside temple. Master Wang Shi, a former Royal Tutor, founded the temple, which boasts structures like the Sea Water Guanyin, Main Hall, Dragon King Hall, Cave Law Hall, and a three-tiered stone pagoda. The Main Hall, revamped in 1970, showcases vibrant paintings reflecting its historical journey.

- Gamcheon Culture Village - Its most distinctive feature is the densely packed blue roofs arranged along the terraced hillsides. Ganchuan Cultural Village, one of the must-visit attractions in Busan, was once an ordinary village inhabited by the impoverished. Later, with the enthusiastic participation of residents, government investigations and excavations, and the creative input of artists, it evolved into a tourist destination. The village preserves relics from the post-Korean War era while exuding a modern cultural vibe.
- BIFF Square (Free Traditional Cookies) - The Busan International Film Festival (BIFF) revitalized the theater street in Busan since 1996, creating BIFF Square. The goal was to enhance South Korea's film culture, establish cultural and tourist destinations, and promote civic engagement. "Star Street" and "Film Festival Street" emerged along the 428-meter road from Nanpudong's Furong Theater to Chungmudong's Land Bridge.
